

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

Especially considering the consolidation of other forms of media that seek to guide the American republic instead of informing.

This trend in media reflects growing conglomeration in all aspects of business. This is not a coincidence. The monopolization of media is meant to cover the general trend of complete control over products, services, and (as much as possible) consuming tendencies and voting outcomes. The major media made several major mistakes in this past election they still have not been called to account for.

Stop this trend- do not lift the cap on cable TV ownership!
